VEGETATIVE CYCLE

Despite heavy snowfall at the beginning of June 2020, the snow tapered off in what remained of the winter months. In November and December, temperatures were only slightly above average and the weather was warm and dry. At the end of December, cloud cover and heavy rains began and stretched into the first half of January. The temperature dropped significantly, 2° Celsius lower than historical averages. This trend continued in February, which was cool and humid, with frequent rains during the first few weeks and temperatures lower than historical averages.

Finally, the weather stabilized in March, with dry days and temperatures of approximately 30° Celsius. This allowed the red grape varieties to reach maturity and the harvest began mid-month. Occasional rains and a slight drop in temperature delayed maturity for a few days but by the beginning of April, the grapes had achieved well-rounded, sweet tannins.

AGING
8 month in contact with oak.

TASTING NOTES

A ruby red wine with glimpses of violet. When it first hits the palate, the primary aromas detected include acidic red fruits and floral notes. Then the woody notes appear. It has a fresh, unctuous mouthfeel that is harmonious and balanced, with delicate tannins that give it elegance.
